Meandering

Jacob Rowe, residing on U. S. 35 (Jamestown road near the Val R. McCoy home) was just in the office and brought one of the largest hedge apples, or Osage oranges, that I have ever seen. It is about seven inches in circumference and weighs several pounds.

It is one of many such fruits growing near his home, Jacob said, and he brought it in by reason of its exceptional size and the fact that he believes that it might be a source of rubber due to the thick, milky, sticky juice it contains. I have often wondered about the same thing myself.

Jacob tells me that he has noticed cows eating the apples, or oranges, and that is something new to me, for I was not aware that anything found the fruit edible, and usually the fruit lays where it falls until it freezes and decays.

The Osage Orange, or Hedge bushes have long been used for hedge fences in Fayette County, but proved such a nuisance that most farmers long ago cut and grubbed the fences out and replaced them with wire fences.

The Osage Orange or Hedge tree is not native to Fayette County or even Ohio, but is found in abundance growing in its native habitat along the streams and other places in Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and some other states where there is prairie land.

In fact the Osage Indians were named after the Osage Orange trees which grow in profusion between the Missouri and Arkansas rivers, and that tribe of Indians lived before being moved into Oklahoma.

A few years ago while driving through the middle west I saw nearly all of the scant timber had died of drought but the Osage Orange, and some of them had also found the drought too severe to survive. However they usually send their yellow roots deep into the soil and are able to obtain sufficient moisture to survive even during periods of drought.

Tom Maddux, proprietor of the "Skyscraper" restaurant on West Court Street, has what I believe is the most extraordinary butcher knife in the city.

After the first World War Tom ran across a man down in the hills who had fashioned a meat knife from an English bayonet, and obtaining the address of a firm in St. Louis that was selling the bayonets, he ordered two.

It was only recently, however, that he had one of the bayonets ground down into a butcher knife, and what a dandy it makes! Of the best steel the blade has a razor-like edge and will last a lifetime.

Tom feels that his butcher knife troubles are at an end, and that he will always have one of the very best.

That lad in a Flying Fortress over Germany with his eye glued to the target in his bombsight also has one eye on us back here at home... he's looking to us for a little thing that counts big when it gets over there... the one little tablespoonful of waste kitchen fats he is asking every housewife to save every day... and turn in to the government to be converted into glycerine to make the "boom" that goes into the bomb he is about to dump on Berlin... Fayette County women, let's keep 'em flying with grease from our frying.

MUSOLINI'S GANG IS TURNING ON BOSS

AT THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Nov. 19.—(P)—The newspaper Corriere Del Ticino at Lugano, Switzerland, asserted today Roberto Farinacci, minister of state in Benito Mussolini's puppet government, is about to take over leadership in German controlled northern Italy from Mussolini.

Mussolini was reported to have retired to a villa at Lake Garda, in bad health and fearing an attempt on his life.

Farinacci, in addition to resuming an intensified campaign against Jews and the Catholic clergy, has virtually declared civil war against Italians resisting the Fascists and Germans, the newspaper said.

REFUND BY ARMY
REVIVES DRIVE TO LOWER TAXES

Congress Left Gasping After
$13,163,519,000 Returned;

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(P)—The army has more money than it needs—13 billion dollars worth. And Congress—getting over the shock with a figurative "well, I swan!"—rises to the occasion and demands lower taxes, closer scrutiny of federal expenditures and a stop to the father draft.

In announcing that the War Department is turning back to the Budget Bureau $13,163,519,000, Chairman Snyder (D., Pa.) of a House Appropriations subcommittee handling army finances explains the department believes the expansion program has reached its peak, that some drastic production cuts have been made and that its manpower needs have been revised downward by more than half a million men.

The Pennsylvania observes that while it is "welcome news to all of us who are disturbed over the mounting public debt... it has no immediate bearing upon the need to raise additional revenue." But Senator Downey (D-Cal.), expresses belief some hikes in taxation may prove to be unnecessary as a result of the implications in the army kickback.

Chairman May (D., Ky.) of the House Military committee says it is a flat indication "we don't need pre-Pearl Harbor fathers."

Rep. Knutson (R-Min.), of the Ways and Means committee terms Snyder's announcement "amazing," adding: "It would be interesting to know how much Congress has over-appropriated for the Navy, the Maritime commission and other spending agencies."

Administration backers of a subsidy plan which has appeared doomed to defeat, report they intended to prolong debate in Congress with the hope if they talk long enough and loud enough, consumers may rally to their aid and rescue the program of federal fund payments designed to keep retail prices down.

While Congress debated the white hot issue of prohibiting subsidy payments, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones urged today continuation of use of Commodity Credit Corporation funds for this purpose in 1944, rather than "abandoning something we have for something that may look better."

Support prices are needed by the farmer to meet production goals, Jones told the Illinois Agri-

ENGLISH CHEERFUL
BUT EXPECT ATTACK

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(P)—Frank E. Gannett, publisher of the Gannett newspapers in the United States, finds the British people cheerful and confident while expecting a last desperate German assault on England, he said today in an interview after a three-weeks visit.

Gannett, along with three other newspaper executives, Norman Chandler of the Los Angeles Times, Grove Patterson of the Toledo Blade and C. George McCullough of the Toronto Globe and Mail, inspected bomber bases and aircraft factories and had talks with high British and American officials and generals.

ZANESVILLE, Nov. 19.—(P)—Sheriff Ed Redman reported today the body of Carlos L. Robertson, 40, of Lima was found early today in a tourist camp cabin seven miles west of Zanesville on the national highway. Robertson's throat was cut, the sheriff said.

Berlin Blasted By Big Force of Bombers
As Second Attack Smashes Ludwigshafen

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(P)—The greatest armada of RAF heavy bombers ever dispatched to Germany blasted Berlin and Ludwigshafen last night, and today U. S. Flying Fortresses with fighter support attacked western Germany.

The Fortress targets were not specified in the first announcement.

At least 700 heavy bombers and perhaps a full thousand took part in the night RAF attacks.

Two and four-ton blockbusters were among the explosives hurled on Berlin and Ludwigshafen.

Incendiary bombs and high explosives dumped on the German capital started large fires whose reflection lit up the skies, although cloud formations prevented immediate observation of the results of the first heavy raid there since September 3.

The exact number of bombers participating in the tremendous dual blow was not made known, but between 700 and 800 heavy bombers participated in some of the raids that leveled Hamburg and the air ministry said last night's total topped all previous assaults.

The announcement indicated the main strength of the night formations struck Berlin with "a great weight of high explosives and incendiary bombs."

Clearer weather prevailed over Ludwigshafen—home of the world's largest chemical works—and the second straight night assault on that industrial city resulted in very large explosions.

The twin mission cost the RAF 32 bombers.

Reports reaching Stockholm said the Berlin attack had been directed chiefly against the city's outskirts, where the bulk of the

FALL OF GOMEL
NEAR AS GERMAN
LINES SMASHED

Fighting in Italy Is Still Slowed by Rain But Balkan
Fireworks Increasing

By RICHARD McMURRAY

Triumphant Russian forces virtually sealed the fate of Gomel, German anchor stronghold on the White Russian front, by capturing Rechitsa, 25 miles to the west, while Allied armies in central Italy still were checked by rampaging rivers.

The Russians pushed forward toward old Poland today from their newly captured bases of Korosten and Rechitsa and brought German counterattacks to a standstill on the lower flank of the great Kiev bulge in the western Ukraine.

Capture of Gomel, White Russian rail center 25 miles east of Rechitsa, appeared near.

Russian troops surged on that beleaguered city from north, south and east. By capturing Korosten, 90 miles northwest of Kiev, the Russians secured their flank in the Ukraine to the Pripiet marshes, releasing thousands of troops to counter heavy and continuing German attacks on the Kiev bulge in the Zhitomir and Fastov area.

German attempts to widen their lone gains near Zhitomir broke down, Moscow said. At both Korosten and Rechitsa, the Russians said they captured enormous booty including trainloads of material. Korosten is 60 miles from the old Polish frontier, on the mangled Odessa-Leningrad railway and another from Kiev to Warsaw.

The Russians also reported advances in the Dnieper bend area southwest of Dnepropetrovsk.

Capture of Korosten, 60 miles from the old Polish border, split German forces in the Ukraine from those in White Russia. The fall of Rechitsa narrowed the last escape corridor open to the beleaguered Gomel garrison to less than 25 miles.

Russian columns were reported converging on Gomel from the north and south and its fall appeared inevitable.

Stalin ordered a double salute of 12 salvos from 124 Moscow victory guns to celebrate the Russian triumphs.

Occupation of Korosten followed a two-day battle in which Red army troops forced the Uzh River to blast the Germans from that important rail junction on the Leningrad-Odessa and Kiev-Warsaw railroads, a Russian communiqué said. Whole trainloads of German war stores were captured inside the city, which lies on the southern edge of the Pripiet marshes. An entire German regiment was reported annihilated.

In addition to cutting the last German north-south railway short at the Polish border, Vatutin appeared to have anchored his right flank against the Pripiet marshes. He was thus able to concentrate strong forces on his left to meet German counterattacks between Zhitomir and Fastov on the south.

Striking for the fourth successive day at German planes massed for a continued attack in the Aegean, American heavy and medium bombers virtually completed destruction of Eleusis airfield at Athens yesterday and bombed another enemy air base at Larissa on the Greek east coast.

The Germans said they occupied three more small Aegean islands, Lipso, Patmos and Ikaria, capturing 240 Italians on Ikaria. Curiously, Berlin said the British garrison of Leros had withdrawn to Samos although the high command claimed with a profusion of fanfares earlier that the 3,000 British and 5,000 Italians on the island had been captured. Fresh air attacks were reported on Samos, 20 miles north of Leros.

While a slight improvement of weather permitted patrol activity and some artillery dueling on the Italian land front, flooded

Gilbert and Marshall Islands Attacked for Fifth Day in Row

(By the Associated Press)
Allied forces in the Pacific are speeding up their offensives—by land in New Guinea, by sea in the Solomons and by air in the mid-Pacific.

For the fifth successive day army planes, operating from central Pacific bases, raided the Marshall and Gilbert Islands, presaging the opening of an amphibious offensive intended to cut in half Japan's stolen island empire.

Seventh Air Force planes returned without loss from raids on Jaluit Island in the Marshalls and Tarawa Airfield in the Gilberts—both repeat performances. They encountered air opposition for the first time. The enemy retaliated by raiding Funafuti in the Ellice islands, presumably the American base, killing two men and damaging a few planes.

In the northern Solomons, a naval task force shelled enemy airfields on Buka less than 200 miles from the Japs' once strong fortress of Rabaul, New Britain.

On New Guinea, where warfare has been confined for weeks to aerial raiding, land fighting burst forth again with Australians advancing from Finschhafen to attack strong Japanese forces who still challenged Allied dominance of Huon Peninsula, springboard for an invasion of New Britain.

Bombers again raided Rabaul while drive bombers supported Allied ground forces on New Guinea and Bougainville Island in the Sol-

ALFRED DE MARIGNY
AGAIN FACING JAIL

Found Guilty of Illegal
Possession of Gasoline

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 19.—(P)—Alfred De Marigny, who won acquittal last week of a murder charge, today drew a $100 (about $200) fine—or a three-month prison sentence if he fails to pay it—for illegal possession of gasoline.

His close friend, Marquis Georges De Visdelou, was fined the same amount and paid immediately, but De Marigny filed notice of appeal.

Magistrate F. E. Field said the only reason he did not sentence the two men to prison is because he might thus have delayed their deportation.

NOT WANTED IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(P)—Rep. Coffey (D-Wash.) said today he would oppose entry into the United States of Alfred De Marigny, acquitted at Nassau, Bahamas, last week of the murder of his multi-millionaire father-in-law, Sir Harry Oakes.

Bricker Is Endorsed
By Ohio Committees

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—(P)—Unanimously endorsed by the Republican state central and executive committees and all Ohio GOP congressmen in his bid for the presidential nomination, Gov. John W. Bricker planned to seek support in other states.

Bricker told a meeting of committee members yesterday he intended "to extend the campaign into other states, but I don't know what primaries I will go into or what the activity will be in other states."

He added, "any place I can be of help to the party in other states I am willing to give my services to that end."

The committees also endorsed Louis H. Brush, Salem newspaper publisher, as a second choice presidential candidate as a means of qualifying delegate candidates

WAR AGAINST AXIS
BY TURKEY LOOMS

ANKARA, Nov. 18.—(Delayed)—(P)—The Turkish ambassador to Berlin returned to confer with his government today on conditions in Germany as the Istanbul newspaper Tanin published an editorial which appeared to be a preliminary step to prepare the Turkish people for eventual war against the Axis.

The Turkish diplomat, Saffet Arkan, returned while Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, was conferring with Adolf Hitler in Germany—presumably about the Allied Moscow conferences and European conditions in general.

Southerners Ready To Join
GOP - If Not Reactionary

ATLANTA, Nov. 19.—(P)—Wendell L. Wilkie, stopping briefly in Atlanta today on a speaking trip to Texas, described himself as "representing the viewpoint of the liberal leaders as well as any man actively discussed for president."

"I can't understand why any liberal in the south can't support me," Wilkie told a group around him as he walked through Terminal Station with Georgia's Republican national committee man and committee woman, Wilson, Williams, Atlanta and Mrs. Bertha M. Field, Marietta.

Williams and Mrs. Field issued a joint statement criticizing Republican party "reactionaries" and asserting "southerners will join the Republican party if an attempt to throw off the yoke which has been fastened upon them by a few national bosses." The statement said such "bosses" wanted to keep the southern party small in order to

12 ARMY FLIERS KILLED

SUPPORT - PRICE BEING PLANNED TO AID MARKET

Livestock Situation Here Is Eased Somewhat in Past Few Days

Hog producers and buyers generally are studying an announcement that the War Food Administration is preparing to offer hog support prices in all major markets at $1 per 100 pounds under the Office of Price Administration ceilings in an attempt to avert overflooding of markets and a possible collapse of prices.

Meanwhile in this community the situation of flooding markets has eased somewhat temporarily, through co-operation between the hog producers and the various shipping organizations, and the fact that the packers are still taking the offering without embargoes.

Producers in many instances are asked to bring their livestock on certain days, and in this way the local pens have been cleared daily.

This is in accordance with the following Associated Press announcement from Chicago: "Announcing it would make a daily report of hog marketing conditions throughout midwestern markets, the War Food Administration today urged farmers to get in touch with their agents in various stockyards to make sure their hogs can be handled before shipping them."

The report on marketing conditions was inaugurated yesterday. It instructs farmers where to market their hogs, when not to ship them because of an over-supply, and the weight and types of hogs which should or should not be sent to livestock centers.

Washington, D. C. comes the further statement regarding efforts to stabilize the market and handle the great influx of livestock: "Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, is expected to ask the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to enforce the support schedule by withholding the $130 per hundred pounds subsidy payments from packers who fail to pay the price and to request the OPA to reduce point values on pork."

Earlier today, WFA moved to slow the current heavy marketing of hogs by lifting for 90 days restrictions on the number of pounds of home-slaughtered pork and lard that may be sold or given to persons not living on the farmer's property.

A statement, summarizing actions to be taken by the several government agencies involved in an attempt to end confusion in the markets and among farmers, may be issued late today or tomorrow, WFA said.

"While the plans call for an initial support price of $1 less than ceilings, WFA said a flexible differential probably will be established later in most markets outside of Chicago to meet seasonal requirements. "The government's moves are designed to assure farmers of receiving the support price of $13.75 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, for hogs of 200 to 270 pounds."

should the Allied command decide to erase that most important objective in Europe.

Last night's 62nd blow at Ludwigshafen, which also produces war essentials, almost certainly marks that city as high on the Allied list of targets to be eliminated.

Ludwigshafen's twin manufacturing city of Mannheim, which lies across the Rhine, was reported from Germany this week to have been 80 percent knocked out.

Since the devastation of Hamburg early in August, Berlin has been bombed heavily three times—August 23, when the RAF lost a record 58 bombers; August 31, when 47 were lost, and September 3, when 22 were lost.

Meanwhile, the RAF has concentrated on industrial targets—completing 80 percent destruction of Kassel and Mannheim, according to a neutral report from Germany this week—and on supporting the Italian campaign with raids on Germany's supply lines.

U. S. Liberators yesterday spread destruction through the Germans' biggest Norwegian airplane repair and maintenance depot at Kjeller, 11 miles outside Oslo, only 24 hours after another American heavy bomber flight blasted the Nazis' biggest electrolysis plant at Rjukan and the Knaben mines.

A DNB broadcast from Berlin called last night's RAF operation an "attempted mass attack." Some damage was acknowledged.

The German agency Transocean also reported attacks "on various places in southwestern and northern Germany," and the Vichy radio said targets in northern France were hit by the RAF last night.

Of nine Liberators listed as missing in the Kjeller attack, three made forced landings in Sweden, where the crews were

SGT. F. R. LEWIS, SOUTH SOLON, IS AWARDED DFC

Decorated for Raid on Ploesti Oil Fields in Rumania

Staff Sgt. Farley R. Lewis, of South Solon, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was learned today. J. C. Lewis, his father, was notified of his son's decoration through a dispatch from the War Department. Sgt. Lewis was one of 79 Ohioans similarly decorated who took part in the low-level bombardment attack on the Ploesti oil refineries in Rumania last August 1. The raid is reported to have destroyed 42 percent of the total Rumanian refining capacities in one devastating blow at Axis war economy.

Sgt. Lewis entered the service September 1942. He is an aerial gunner.

Interned. Eight enemy fighters were destroyed. In another feeble attempt at retaliation against Britain, a few German planes bombed a southeastern England town during the night, causing a small number of casualties. None of the planes reached the London area.

LOCAL FIRM FACES FEDERAL CHARGES

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—(P)—The District Attorney's Office filed bills of information with Federal Court yesterday charging three firms with violation of Federal Seed and Food, Drug and Cosmetic Acts. Those named included The Cudahy Packing Co., of Washington Court House, accused of violating the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act in a shipment of cheese, and E. B. Hostetter Co., of Richmond, charged with violating the same act in a popcorn shipment.

omons. Marines on Bougainville, who have killed eight Japanese for every marine lost, were steadily enlarging their beachhead. Divebombers attacked in the direction of Buin where the enemy was apparently preparing for an offensive or to defend its main installations on the last of its Solomon holdings.

As American reinforcements were steadily poured ashore on Bougainville, Japanese planes sank their first ship in the area—the only threat of support Tokyo propagandists have for the dozens of American warships they claim to have sunk. It was a small ship and few lives were lost. More than half the attackers were shot down.

In San Francisco, Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, said Tokyo's fictitious claims of airplane victories indicated "some kind of internal trouble" in Japan.

Enemy warplanes had an opportunity to lend support to Tokyo broadcast in an hours-long attack on the task force enroute to shell Buka. One Japanese plane was shot down but not a ship was hit.

China-based American planes supported Chinese troops on the Salween River front north of Burma and bombed an enemy air-drome and barracks at Kengtung, Burma. They returned without loss.

in the primary election. Asserting the "greatest problem the American people will be called upon to solve since the Civil War is that of making a wise choice for the president of the United States," the resolution said Governor Bricker "is eminently qualified to serve in the manner which would best serve the welfare of the people of our nation."

Committee Chairman Ed D. Schorr said U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft probably would be endorsed for renomination at the next meeting and that the six national convention delegates-at-large likely would be selected.

Nomination of district delegates and alternates will be left to district organizations, he said. All would be understood to have the governor's approval.

Indicating the state committee was hopeful of avoiding a contest for the gubernatorial nomination—which Bricker has announced he will not ask—came from Schorr. He said if there was "any possibility of widespread agreement throughout the state, the committee will go further in its endorsement of candidates," at another meeting to be held soon.

NAZIS DISTURBED

MADRID, Nov. 19.—(P)—A battle between Marshal Petaine and Pierre Laval in France has been brought into the open even by the Paris Press and the Germans are making frantic preparations to take over if the whole Vichy house of cards collapses.

Laval, according to the Paris press, has gone to his chateau castle, an armed stronghold packed with collaborationist police.

JAMES W. MATTHEWS DIES EARLY FRIDAY

Aged Resident Is Victim of Heart Ailment

James Edwin Matthews, 89, one of the well known residents of near Jeffersonville, died Friday at 1:15 A. M., following two weeks illness with a heart ailment.

Mr. Matthews was a member of one of the pioneer families of Fayette County and had spent practically all of his life in northern Fayette County. He resided near Jeffersonville for 68 years.

He is survived by numerous distant relatives but no immediate family.

Funeral services will be held at his late home Monday at 2 P. M. and burial will be made in the Bloomington Cemetery under direction of the Morrow Funeral Home, Jeffersonville.

His body will be removed to his late home Saturday afternoon.

MILD TEMPERATURES OCCUR HERE FRIDAY

Unusually mild temperature was recorded here Friday afternoon, the bright sunshine adding to the general high temperature which followed the several days of cold weather.

Honeybees were flying about and other insects, including one butterfly, were reported here during the day.

rivers still prevented large-scale action and deep mud bogged down most of the heavy equipment of the Fifth and Eighth armies.

The fourth devastating attack on Elevis airfield in as many days was made by Flying Fortresses whose bombs were shown in photographs to have destroyed or damaged more than a dozen enemy planes on the ground and left many fires burning.

The Fortresses encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire but only half a dozen fighters in the vicinity, and these were driven off by the P-38 escort.

Mitchell medium bombers assailed the Larissa airfield on an important rail link between Athens and Salonika, and dumped tons of explosives on the Grosseto and Terni railroad yards north of Rome in Italy.

While Warhawks hammered shipping along the Yugoslav coast, light bombers and fighter-bombers swept along the front to attack motor convoys.

Eighth Army units managed to gain some high ground north of the village of Archi northwest of Ateesa despite stout resistance. The gain permitted better observation of the enemy's strong defense lines across the Sangro River.

Major movements were curtailed except along paved highways, however, and temporary bridges flung by engineers across swollen streams.

Fresh peace demonstrations were reported in the Balkans. Berlin said Sofia would be evacuated following the American bombing. Hungarian troops stood again at the Rumanian border as the old boundary quarrel between Hitler's puppets flared. The Turkish ambassador to Berlin returned to Ankara to consult as that guardian nation of the Dardanelles moved cautiously closer to the Allied camp. Marshal Petain was reported ready to resign unless he could summon a "democratic" parliament in France. Pressure of the Allies in Italy and Yugoslav partisans in the Balkans was reported to have forced Hitler to dispose 50 divisions in those regions, ten against the American-British line in central Italy.

Stewart Looks Like Winner

With the recent announcement by Gov. John W. Bricker that he would seek the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States, the door was opened wide for prospective Republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in 1944.

Several prominent and worthy Ohio Republicans have been mentioned for this honor and from among these one definite announcement of candidacy has been made, that of Hon. James Garfield Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati who in the last two years has become known as an outstanding Republican leader in the state.

Stewart, who was born in this congressional district, at Springfield, is now in his sixth year as mayor of Cincinnati and has been one of the most popular figures in Hamilton County's political history. In 1942 he was prominently mentioned as a possible candidate but stepped aside out of deference to the third term desires of Gov. Bricker.

Stewart was educated at Kenyon College and long has resided in Cincinnati where he has the reputation of having made a notably worthy contribution to good government during his many years of public service. He has a record of not only being a brilliant attorney but also of possessing the ability to gain cooperation from others and to transmit his knowledge to others. He was formerly an instructor at the University of Cincinnati Law School and also taught at the Cincinnati YMCA Night Law School. He has a great following of devoted admirers who are very loyal to him because of the confidence they have in him as a man as well as because of his proven ability. He stems from old American stock on both sides of his house.

In addition to his high standing as a citizen, Stewart is one of the best campaigners in Ohio. He is a vigorous, eloquent and convincing speaker and has made a favorable impression in many parts of this and other states where he has appeared.

By reason of the fact that the Republicans of Ohio will need a man of Stewart's talents to lead them in the coming campaign for the governorship following the excellent record achieved by Gov. Bricker during his terms in that office, indications now point to Stewart as the probable winner of the Republican nomination and those who are in a position to judge accurately assert with emphasis that the choice of Stewart could not be improved upon.

The Republicans of Ohio have many good men from whom to select a nominee for the governorship the coming year but among those so far mentioned it appears that Stewart is definitely in the lead.

Flashes of Life

Marines Tell It To Each Other

YOUNGSTOWN—A local columnist tells the story of two Marines who were bragging about their respective outfits.

"When we presented arms," said one, "all you could hear was slap, slap, click."

"Pretty fair," said the other. "With us it was slap, slap, jingle."

"Jingle? What was that?"

"Our medals!"

Spirits Prove Happy Medium

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Banker W. W. Rhett reported a friend gave Uncle John some of the mountains' wartime molasses-moonshine whisky, then asked the old Negro a few days later how he liked the stuff.

"Jis 'bout right," answered Uncle John. "Yes, suh, jis 'bout right."

"What do you mean, 'jis 'bout right'?" queried the whisky giver.

"Well suh, 'cume the reply, 'if ud bin any better you wouldn't uv give it to me. An' if it ud been any worse I wouldn't uv drunk it."

has attracted much attention and comment. It is here quoted because of its indication of sentiment in agricultural communities:

"While the elections of November 2 have been described as a great Republican sweep, nevertheless the meaning is deeper. They signify that the American people have determined to return to two-party government. Increasingly the people have realized that only under two-party government can the American republic, as we have known it, continue to exist.

"The elections of 1938 and 1939 registered the beginning of such a trend. There was a sharp interruption in 1940 when Mr. Roosevelt's great personal charm, his radio voice, his tremendous patronage power, enabled him to defeat Mr. Willkie handily. That, we must now realize, was a contest of personalities, which submerged parties and left the people small choice in principles. Rivalries in charm and false promises are not helpful in advancing the nation.

"Then in 1942 and 1943, the trend toward two-party government was resumed. The Republican party, by choosing state leaders of proper character, integrity and humility, in 1942 installed 24 state administrations. This has now been increased to 26, even breaking through the Mason and Dixon line to include Kentucky.

"The entire South is in open rebellion against the New Deal. After eleven weary years Democrats there begin to resume control of their party affairs. The New Deal, insofar as it sought to destroy the two-party system and create a dictatorship, is dead. Now the people, at long last, have in their hands the opportunity to restore the republic to methods of government responsive to the people's power.

"Twelve months hence the nation elects a new president. The leaders of our parties must by now clearly understand that government by minority blocs is done. The character and integrity of candidates and party loyalties are going to count most. The last election showed that labor candidates, some of them excellent men, were heavily defeated in practically all of the strong labor districts where they ran. Efforts by unwise leaders to vote union labor as a bloc were clearly repented by 80 per cent of their own memberships.

"The people will now demand leadership instead of threats and coercion. They will insist on candidates for all offices, from the presidency down, who are earnest and sincere, and who will approach the great problems of the war and the peace with humility, frankness and simple intellectual honesty.

"The 1944 election can and should be fought on principles, not personalities."

Chinese Cookery vs. New Orleans

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"JUST GOT back from New Orleans," said my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs. "Went to a few

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

clinics just to see what they were up to. Why, I spent most of my time eating.

"Great place to eat, New Orleans, as you well know. They cook their food enough. You know I had a Chinese cook once, and while I don't want to say anything against one of our allies, according to my standard their way of cooking is all wrong. They wait until about five minutes before the meal is to be served and then they put her all on and turn up the fire full on and let her simmer until just before they bring it in and then you have food that is sort of hot and cooked on the outside but nearly raw in the middle.

"Now in New Orleans that plan is out. Why, I actually believe some of the food I ate had been cooked and re-cooked half a dozen times. Then they put everything together and let the juices swap around and in these days of rationing that is quite an advantage. Veal tastes like sweet potato, and still there is just a little individual difference so it doesn't seem as if they are trying to cheat you.

Cook for Taste

"New Orleans is making the last stand against the vitamin. So a doctor down there told me. It is the last city in the country where the cooking is based on taste and not on whether it is healthful.

"This fellow said most of the cooks in New Orleans have never heard of vitamins A, B, C, D, E, F and G. And these vitamins tend to avoid New Orleans because they know if they show up they'll be cooked to death.

"Now the Chinese cook's food is just loaded with vitamins because he doesn't kill them with heat. The chefs in other cities have taken courses in vitamins and treat them as if they were royalty, but not in New Orleans.

"They have either never heard of the vitamins or they despise them, and when they get hold of some food that has a little vitamin in it they give it a going over that amounts to a third degree. They pour sauces all over them. They fry, frizzle and fricassee. They really leave just a bare remnant of vitamin in the food, enough to keep you healthy, but not enough to make you sick.

"I must say I never felt so good in my life as since my vitamin intake has been cut down. That report you just read me about the drafties 18 and 19 years old doesn't look as if vitamins had done this country much good. And weren't our fathers and mothers and grandparents pretty healthy and never saw a vitamin pill in their lives. Sometimes I wonder how they survived.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. S. C.—What causes excessive hair to grow on a woman's face—is it hereditary or due to some glandular deficiency? Is the electric needle or x-ray the better treatment?

Answer: Excessive hair can be caused by glandular trouble, but this form is very rare. The average case is hereditary or due to some cause unknown to science. Both the electric needle and x-ray are useful for removal, but they act somewhat differently. The x-ray will remove the fine hairs, but has little effect on coarse ones, but the electric needle is effective on the coarse ones.

Answer: Blood bank units often lean over backwards in being safe in their selections. It seems to me they did in your case. It is most improbable that you have any tuberculosis left in the body. The Red Cross rule is as given above.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

WHEN SHE said, "Have you seen Andrea?" Beth saw Jim's face light up. It was the mention of her name that did something to him that Beth would have given her right hand to have seen when her name was mentioned.

"Where is my blithesome Andrea? Here I arrive expecting to find the two most beautiful girls in Washington hanging out the window with bated breath awaiting my arrival, and the landlady tells me Andy departs an hour ago, complete with suitcase, for parts unknown."

"Then you didn't get her telegram," Beth gave him the telephone slip she had picked up.

"Nice work," he said. "But where do I go?"

"I'll find it for you in the telephone book," Beth offered, running her finger down a page of S's. "Here it is . . ."

He wrote the name on the back of an envelope. Then he got a little bag he'd left in the living room. Beth watched from the doorway. When he came back she held out her hand.

Jim looked at it in some surprise. "What's this? The brush-off?"

"You'll want to get right over there. Andrea and Eunice will be expecting you."

"Eunice?"

Beth explained that Eunice worked with Andrea, that Ensign Secombe was away and Mrs. Secombe was going to chaperone the weekend.

Jim grinned and said that was swell, but he wanted to see something of his old friend, Beth, and she could park her bundles and go and have lunch with him. Then, he said, she could deliver him to wherever Andrea was, and it would be like old times to get together.

Beth said she had a date, she hadn't known Jim was coming.

"This Blake guy? I hear it's pretty serious. I'll have to look him over. You and I are practically in the same family now, and I have to see that the right kind of a fellow gets my second-best girl."

Beth's retort to that was much gayer than she felt.

She went upstairs, promising to return in a few minutes. She thought wildly of changing her dress and putting on her best turban, realized the futility of it, and compromised by washing her face and putting on fresh make-up, hoping that Jim would think the sparkle in her eyes was for Vernon, and not because it was a glimpse of heaven just to look at his own tanned face.

They went to a tearoom and Jim talked through a hearty lunch. He talked about camp and Army life which, he said, was "the only one." He said he thought he'd stay in it after the war, and he agreed with Beth that America hadn't a chance of escaping from it. He complimented her again on how well she was looking, said he'd missed her and she was a she-knew-what never to write to him. And then he began what so many girls know to be the heart-breaking game of do-you-remember.

Beth couldn't take that. The things he remembered were not the things that she remembered. She reminded him that Andrea would be waiting.

Then, for the first time, they talked about Andrea. Jim said, "Beth, I want you to know that it means a lot to me to have you for our friend."

Beth murmured that she was glad.

"I mean to say that knowing you're always around to take care of Andy is the thing."

Beth permitted herself a wry smile. Anyone to hear Jim go on, would think that Beth were a middle-aged, financially independent guardian, and she said something like that.

"It's what you've got in your head and your heart that I'm counting on. You've always been the sensible one. Andy, bless her, is beautiful, impetuous and not always as sensible as she ought to be, but I'm not kidding. I love her, Beth. I always will, so I'll take her any way she is."

"That's love," Beth agreed for want of something better to say.

"I've always been a drifter, lacking in ambition, thinking something would come along. Well, something has come along, but even if it hadn't, I'd have changed when I got Andy."

"The two luckiest people in the world," Beth was thinking, "each to have the other and feel that way about it."

Jim went on, "Having a girl like Andy gives a man a sense of responsibility. I'm thinking about the future, Beth, if anything should happen to me . . ."

Beth's face was stricken at the thought, and she said a little prayer under her breath.

" . . . I'd like to think you were always there in the pinch, that Andy could count on you. I know you will."

"Thanks, Jim," Beth tried to keep her voice light. "Don't anticipate anything dramatic."

"Dramatic things are happening to a lot of people these days, Beth. They can happen to me. I tell that to Andy, but she doesn't catch on. If I could only make her believe that I . . ." He broke off, and crumpling a piece of roll, he said suddenly, "What happened between you two girls?"

Beth's mouth dropped open. "Nothing, Jim, nothing. Why?"

Jim shook his head. "Well, okay, skip it. Only you two used to be as close as glue and paper."

Andrea had said something like that to her a couple of nights before.

"We're okay, Jim, and you can be assured that I'll respect this sacred trust. Good old Beth will always be around if Andy needs her. Although I am more likely to need help than she."

Jim brightened and said, "Good girl," and called for his check.

In the cab going out to the Secombe apartment, Beth said, "Jim, if we get into it, and you got sent to foreign duty, would you marry Andrea before you went? I mean, would you want to?"

Jim let cigaret smoke drift from his mouth before he said, "Do you think Andrea would marry me now?"

"Irish trick," she said, "answering a question with a question."

"I'll answer you that way, pet. From the day I first kissed that little nit-wit, I'd have married her any day, on any conditions she made. Will you remember that?"

This serious conversation came to an end with their arrival at the apartment house where Jim and Andrea were to spend the week-end with Eunice Secombe.

Jim pushed the button and Beth and he rode up in the elevator.

Andrea was waiting at the door. She threw herself into Jim's arms and, only after a moment, did she see Beth standing in the hallway. Swiftly her face underwent an immediate change, and her manner, too.

"Beth," she exclaimed.

"I lunched with your beau and delivered him to you. May I come in and meet Mrs. Secombe?"

"Yes, yes," Andrea said. "Of course, only she isn't here. She's . . . she's gone shopping. She'll be back later, much later. I'm sorry you can't stay"—she hurried on—"but I know you have a date with Vernon tonight, darling. Anyway, you had a nice talk with Jim, didn't you?"

Jim said to calm down and for Beth to come in and take off her things.

Andrea said Beth couldn't, and repeated that she had a date.

Beth said that was right. Perhaps she'd see them the next day. Jim and Andrea came to the elevator, arms about each other, to see her off.

Something remained in the back of Beth's memory: Andrea's saying, "Eunice has only a one-room apartment and kitchenette, so I couldn't move in with her if I wanted to."

Beth decided Andrea must have been wrong.

French's Combination PUBLIC SALE

We will sell at auction, beginning at 11:00 A. M.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26th

At our farm, one-half mile south of New Holland, Ohio, the following live stock and hog lot equipment:

50 HAMPSHIRE PURE BRED GILTS

We will offer 50 bred gilts, sired by our King Roller Boar No. 281309—a splendid son of Century Hi Roller. The dams of these gilts carry the blood of the best Hampshire families including Smooth Clan, High Score and Promoter. Fourteen of these gilts will be bred to a young No Score boar recently purchased from Gilbert Gardner and the balance to our senior yearling Clan Fashion boar. The sires and dams will be on exhibition.

25 DAIRY HEIFERS

15 pure bred Holstein heifers and 10 heifers of mixed breeds. Most of these heifers are bred—some are springers. Here is a good opportunity to get next year's valuable cow. They are sure to make money for their new owners.

140 SHEEP

Having discontinued the operation of a grazing farm in Southern Ohio, we will sell the 140 good western ewes from that farm. These two, three and four year old ewes are bred to registered Shropshire and Southdown bucks. We will also sell two of the four bucks used on these ewes.

100 SMIDLEY HOG HOUSES

Due to the scarcity of lumber and labor, coupled with war restrictions, we have not been able to build Smidley Hog Houses this year. Recently we secured a car of Douglas Fir lumber from Canada which contained enough suitable lumber to build one hundred houses. This small number of houses would mean nothing in meeting the tremendous national demand for Smidley Hog Houses, so we have decided to sell them to the farmers who attend our farm sale. These houses are 6x6½ ft., have oak runners and floors, Douglas Fir siding, Red Cedar roofs, and two coats of the best paint. They are strictly first class. We consider the Cedar roofs to be as good as galvanized steel roofs and will make the houses cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

100 SMIDLEY HOG FEEDERS

We are building as many Smidley Feeders of standard quality as we can under present restrictions but are not able to meet more than 10% of the national demand. However, we are setting aside one hundred Smidley Feeders, of various sizes, for sale to the patrons of our farm sale at 1941 prices. These feeders will not be sold at auction.

The sale will begin at eleven o'clock, regardless of the weather. Come early enough to pick out the gilts, heifers or equipment you may want. Good hot lunch will be served.

Washington at a Glance

By ALEXANDER GEORGE

WASHINGTON — Although American consumers are riding a record high wave of spending, they are socking into savings billions of dollars more than they ever saved in the history of this rich country.

The Department of Commerce estimates that the savings of individuals this year will run close to 36 billion dollars. (Income for 1943 is figured at 126 billions and consumer expenditures at 90 billions.) Individual savings amounted to 25.5 billions in 1942 and 13.6 billions in 1941.

Never before 1941 did the annual savings exceed 10 billions. The average for the previous decade was less than 5 billions.

BLUE LION GRID SQUAD Five Blue Lions Selected TO HEAR MIAMI COACH AT LION CLUB BANQUET

Coach Stuart Holcomb, mentor of this year's Miami Redskins, is slated to speak at the Lions Club annual banquet for the Blue Lion football squad November 30.

Holcomb's Miami team has won six games, lost two and tied one this year for the best winning record at Miami in five years. The tie, incidentally, was against Indiana, which later beat Ohio State. The Redskins played the Hoosiers to a seven to seven draw.

Holcomb formerly coached at Muskingum College before going to Washington and Jefferson for one year. He is in his second year at Miami now. Before joining Muskingum's staff, he coached at Findlay College.

The former Ohio State star was captain of the Buckeye team in 1931—the team which upset Michigan 20 to 6.

Holcomb is a native of Lincoln, Nebraska, but began his athletic career at Erie, Pa., high school, where he won letters in football, basketball, baseball, track and swimming.

Paul Shoultz, 1942 Blue Lion mainstay and star halfback at Miami this year, will also be a guest at the banquet. Sidney Gillman, assistant football coach at Miami, will speak at the meeting as well. Robert

At the business session following the turkey dinner, three resolutions were adopted for the coming SCO basketball season. Briefly, they were: (1) participation in reserve games was limited to freshmen and sophomores; (2) boys who play in reserve games may not play with the varsity the same evening; and (3) two officials will handle the games.

The resolutions which met general approval. Both school officials and coaches at WHS endorsed them without qualification.

Hillsboro was the only school not represented among the 18 coaches and school officials at the Circleville meeting. No explanation was given for the absence. Intention to attend had previously been expressed.

League meetings are held twice

—spring and fall—with the site rotating among the member schools whose officials act as hosts at the dinner. The spring meeting is to be held at Greenfield on March 14, 1944. The league's only officer is W. F. Rettig, the secretary, who has been re-elected each year since he was placed in the position. The superintendent or principal of the host school customarily acts as chairman of the meeting.

WAYNE CAGERS BEATEN IN EXPERIMENTAL GAME PLAYED IN AFTERNOON

The Wayne High School basketball team took a sound drubbing from the big and rangy boys from Frankfort High School on the Wayne gym floor in "experimental" games at Good Hope Thursday afternoon. The varsity was swamped under a score of 53 to 19 after the reserves had been topped, 18 to 9.

Partisans of the Good Hope school, while disappointed at the outcome of the games, said that the defeats were discouraging in view of the handicaps. The Good Hope boys, they pointed out, have the will to win plus speed and playing ability but lack the height so vital to basketball players.

Cardiff, at center, and Anderson, at right guard, scored all of the Good Hope varsity's points. Cardiff rung up six field goals and a free throw for a total of 13 points while Anderson cashed in three shots from the field. Peterson, Briggs and Graham, all tall boys who had not too much difficulty in shooting over the heads of the Wayne defense, ran wild, registering 13, 15 and 15 points respectively.

The reserve game, the more interesting of the two, showed scoring ability among all of the Good Hope boys. They all got in the varsity game but none was able to ring a shot.

The game was played in the afternoon as an experiment, Superintendent Kenneth Craig said, to see if the turnout would warrant others. The purpose, he explained, was to help conserve rubber and gasoline and to that end the pupils could remain at school for the game and go home on the bus. Most of the pupils attended the game, he said, adding that the experiment appeared "very satisfactory."

There were, however, fewer adults who found it impossible to get away from work in the afternoon. The games, played at night for years, have drawn ardent supporters from the community in the past. The superintendent gave no indication as to whether the afternoon game plan might be used more extensively during the wartime conservation period.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Nov. 19—AP—Spurred by the amount of wheat, the wheat market was given to millers to enable them to pay as high as parity prices for wheat, the bread cereal advanced fractionally in a fairly active trade today. Rye followed wheat higher after slumping at the start, but oats and barley were little changed.

Distillers and mills were heavy buyers of cash wheat, shipping sales from here totaling more than 100,000 bushels. The wheat pit also drew support from reports that, unless rain is received in parts of the southwest shortly, the condition of the winter wheat crop will be the lowest in several years with heavy abandonment of acreage possible.

At the close wheat was up 1/4-1/2, December 1.61 1/4-1/2, rye was ahead 1/4-1/2, December 1.15 1/4-1/2, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, December 78 1/2-1/4, and barley was 1/4-1/2 higher, December 1.19 1/4-1/2.

FOUR FROM HERE AT STATE MEET OF FARM BUREAU

Ambulance Is Presented To Army as Feature of Silver Jubilee

Four Fayette counties are today in Columbus attending the 25th annual convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in the Neil House and 34 others attended one day's session Thursday, it was learned today.

The four delegates—Walter Sollars, A. F. Ervin, W. A. Bonner and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman—attended the business session, and reports of committees on code of regulations, credentials and resolutions Friday morning.

A highlight of the convention was the silver jubilee banquet, during which the army was formally presented with an ambulance, donated by Farm Bureau youth councils throughout the state.

Six new trustees were elected at the Thursday session. They were: W. M. Woods of Maumee, Carl Ankney of Cecil, Russell Sellers of Mt. Vernon, Robert Caldwell of Batavia, Mrs. J. C. Maddy of Perrysburg and Mrs. Harold Robison of Ashtabula. Directors re-elected were F. L. Cooper of Glenford, W. E. Stough of Mansfield and Ralph Varian of East Canton.

Attending from here were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nisley, Walter Sollars, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silcott, Beryl Cavine, W. A. Bonner, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. Russell Beatty, A. B. Ervin, Mrs. Glenn Smith, Clarence Cooper, C. V. Armstrong, M. B. Griest, Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moats, Mrs. and Mrs. Homer Wilson, Walter Coil, Robert Rowland, Miss Elizabeth Rowland, Edgar Davis, Miss Iva Lee Davis, Miss Ruth Conrad, Miss Imogene Finley, Edwin Elliott, Jack Rogers and Miss Marilyn Wilson.

A group of 3,428 Ohio government units in 80 counties could have written checks for almost $64,000,000 from treasury cash balances last January 1, delegates were told.

David Sutton of the Ohio Public Expenditure Council, a non-political research organization, told the legislation and taxation section Thursday 3,428 of the state's 3,963 units had an aggregate cash balance, exclusive of unmatured investments, of $63,830,982 as the year opened.

"They could have written checks for that amount," he observed. The Council's survey—still incomplete in Cuyahoga, Lucas, Franklin, Hamilton, Darke, Holmes, Tuscarawas and Wyandot counties—included counties, cities, school districts, townships and villages.

The complete survey will show cash balances of about 90 millions, Sutton predicted.

Sutton said subdivision treasuries in Fayette County were $207,492 and in Washington C. H., $84,905.

JURY DISAGREES IN M'KINLEY CASE

Dismissed After Over Two Hours Deliberation

After deliberating for two hours and 10 minutes, the jury sitting in the case of Ohio against Carroll McKinley, indicted for attempted rape of Letha Ferguson, was dismissed at 6:45 P. M. Thursday, after they stated that no agreement could be reached.

The jury received the case at 4:35 P. M. and reported at 6:45. Whether a new trial will be held has not been announced.

STAUNTON PTA TO BUY PLAY EQUIPMENT SOON

Over 150 Attend Potluck Supper Before Meeting

More than 150 people attended the potluck supper at the Staunton P.T.A. meeting Thursday night when Os Wilson's membership team entertained the winning team, captained by Denver Denen. Wilson's team enrolled 117 members while Denen's team accounted for 129.

It was voted at the business meeting that the P.T.A. assist the school in buying playground and playroom equipment. What equipment will be purchased will be decided later.

Plans for the annual Christmas treat and program were also discussed. The program will be an operetta, directed by Mrs. Helen Huff, county music supervisor.

The just-organized school salvage drive was outlined to the parents. Their response is described as "enthusiastic." The drive is conducted on a per-capita pupil quota. There are 47 pupils in Staunton school.

After the business session, conducted by Mrs. Enzo Lamb, president of the organization, a white elephant sale was conducted. Wilson was auctioneer. The proceeds from the sale were put into the treasury of the organization.

MRS. RALPH CLINE CALLED BY DEATH

Death Comes After Operation In Springfield Hospital

Mrs. Ralph Cline, 69, died Thursday at 8 A. M. in City Hospital in Springfield. She had been in the hospital for a few days and had been ill for about three weeks after an operation.

Mrs. Cline was a resident of Milledgeville and a member of the Greenfield Methodist Church. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Ralph and Walter Patch, all of Milledgeville, four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 P. M. in the Milledgeville Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Milledgeville cemetery under the direction of the Littleton Funeral Home.

Friends may call at the residence in Milledgeville at any time.

Malaria is endemic in seven southern and southwestern states, and in all of the South American countries north of the Rio Plata.

HUNTERS POUR INTO COUNTY FOR FIRST DAY

Most Visitors Apparently Well Supplied With Ammunition

A surprisingly large number of hunters poured into Fayette County over Thursday night and early Friday morning for the opening of the hunting season, which started at 11 A. M. Friday.

Hotels were overtaxed to handle the hunters. Dozens found accommodations with friends in the city and community.

A number of sportsmen here stated that apparently a majority of those coming into the county to hunt had a good supply of ammunition, while it has been almost impossible for local sportsmen to obtain anything like an adequate supply of shells, and a great many of them have no ammunition at all.

Hunters from many points in Ohio, including a goodly number from Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield and Columbus, as well as others from points in West Virginia and Kentucky flocked to the county, not in as large numbers as during some previous years, but by the hundreds.

As usual, they regard this community as one of the best hunting grounds in this part of the nation, and pheasants and rabbits are unusually abundant in this and adjoining counties.

A great many farmers, most of them without ammunition to hunt on their own farms, have posted their lands against hunting and are enforcing it to the letter.

Conservation Officer Chalmers Burns and other officers were in the field keeping a lookout for violators, and it was expected that a number would be cited during the day, as usually takes place.

Limited supplies of shotgun shells reaching some dealers recently were sold at 8 and 10 to a customer. Some hunters offered $5 per box for shells but the ceiling price was observed by dealers generally.

MRS. A. H. WALDREN DIES IN SPRINGFIELD

Granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Parrett

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Parrett, East Court Street, have received word that their granddaughter, Mrs. Arthur Waldren, 25, of Springfield, died at 8 P. M. Thursday. Mrs. Waldren had been ill for several months.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Pennyryn, three, her mother, Mrs. Ruth Parrett Greaves, of Detroit, a brother, Lt. Charles Greaves, who is stationed somewhere in Australia, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Parrett and Mrs. Anna Frayne of the Plymouth Road, as well as many other relatives.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 1:30 P. M. in the Herr-Fox Funeral Home in Springfield. Burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery. The funeral cortege will arrive here at 3 P. M. Saturday.

In it he stated he is well satisfied and added a humorous note when he mentioned the fact that his outfit has numerous mascots; several five months old puppies, one parrot and uncountable wild pigs.

His older brother, Sgt. Kermit Zimmerman has been transferred from Chanute Field, Ill., to Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

WHS SPEECH CLASS PRESENTS WAR PLAY

'The Hill of Bataan' Given at WHS Auditorium

WHS students saw something a little unusual in the way of assembly programs Thursday afternoon when students of Miss Rosalyn Wilson's speech class presented "The Hills of Bataan," a short play by Stanley Richards, in the high school auditorium.

The story of a soldier killed at Bataan who is permitted to go back to his home town and who is resigned to death because of the things he sees there, the play incorporated some unique lighting effects and tricky stage setting. A home, a village store, a defense factory, a bedroom and a hill at Bataan were all represented on the stage.

Steve Kellough played the soldier; the stranger was Bob Denton; mother, Virginia Bidwell; banker, Dick Hagerty; friend, Gloria Butters; sister, Carol McCoy; customer, Claire Williams; storekeeper, Harold Moyer; another mother, Judith Dray and sweetheart, Marie Marchant.

Lighting was handled by Carl Harper, sound effects by Jim Dellinger; staging by Bud Carlson and Bill Rudduck, costumes by Ruth Oster and programs by Mary Sexton. The play was directed by Miss Wilson. Background music was furnished by Miss Mary Elizabeth Wood at the organ.

Before the play, Mary Sexton gave a scripture reading, and prayer and Paul Fitzwater, music director, led the group singing the Alma Mater.
